All these Big Names know about Christendom and have been to the College's campus. Maybe it's time you should, too!

Christendom College, celebrating its 30th Anniversary this year, is an accredited 4-year co-educational Roman Catholic Liberal Arts College, located in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

It offers an 84-credit hour integrated core curriculum, with majors in History, Philosophy, Theology, Political Science, English, and Classics.

A Junior Semester in Rome is one of the highlights of the educational experience, as are the small classes, personalized attention, and vibrant Catholic culture which permeates the entire program.

Ranked by Young America's Foundation as one of America's Most Conservative Colleges and by the Cardinal Newman Society as one of the country's Most Joyfully Catholic Colleges, it's the perfect college for anyone interested in an education integrating Faith and Reason.

"I am well aware of the distinguished record of Christendom College and of the outstanding contribution which it has made to Catholic life in the United States. For this reason, I am particularly honored to associate myself with such a fine Catholic institution of higher learning and my prayers are that Christendom College will enjoy many more years of service in the education and formation of young people." – Pope Benedict XVI
